

LEGAL & PRIVACY POLICY

Fraser Worldwide SAM and all its subsidiaries and/or affiliates (collectively, "Fraser") are the sole owner of the information collected on its website within the FraserYachts.com domain. Subject to applicable regulations, Fraser collects information from its users at several different points on its website. Other than for specific purposes as agreed with the user, any information so collected is used for legitimate interests only and may be accessed, corrected or erased at any time on a case-by-case basis upon request.

IMPORTANT DISCLAIMER

This website is provided by Fraser on an "as is" basis. No warranties or representations of any kind expressed or implied are given (and if any such warranties and representations arise by operation of law or otherwise they are hereby disclaimed to the fullest extent permitted by law) in connection with this site or its content including without limitation the completeness or accuracy of any of its contents. Fraser shall not be liable for any loss or damages or expenses of any kind including without limitation compensatory, direct, indirect or consequential damages, loss of data, income or profit, loss of or damage to property or claims by third parties howsoever arising in connection with the copying or use of any information or material contained in or referred to on this website or otherwise from the use of this website (including without limitation information in respect of the yachts described on this website). Nothing on this website constitutes advice, nor does the transmission, downloading or sending of any information create any contractual relationship. Prices and indications as to the availability of yachts, captains and crew on this website are given for guidance purposes only and are subject to change without notice. Fraser Yachts is not responsible for the content of external websites that link to this website or which are linked from it.

COOKIES

The Fraser website uses cookies to record visits. This helps us to improve the websites and provide you with a good experience when you browse our site. By using the Service, you consent to the use of cookies. Our Cookies Policy explains what cookies are, how we use cookies, how third-parties we may partner with may use cookies on the Service, your choices regarding cookies and further information about cookies. Please see our Cookie Policy for more information.

ANALYSIS

Information gathered through this website will be held in a database and will be used periodically to assess the success of the website and to monitor its activity. When a user requests a page from the website's server, the server automatically collects some information about the user's system, including the IP address. Fraser collects the minimum information necessary to ensure its services work successfully and reliably, and to monitor activity on its websites so that it can continually assess and improve them. Fraser uses stats to analyze traffic to its websites. Our stats do not create individual profiles of users and only collect aggregate data.

MARKETING

Fraser asks for information from users of its websites. Information gathered through its websites will be held in a secure database and will be used periodically to assist in the various marketing activities of Fraser when there is a legitimate interest. Users' information may be shared with companies which are within the Fraser network of companies, for example its subsidiary The Crew Network, where there is a legitimate interest. However Fraser does not disclose users' information to any other third parties without their prior consent.

LEGAL DISCLAIMER

Although Fraser makes every effort to preserve users' privacy, it may need to disclose personal information when required by law wherein it has a good-faith belief that such action is necessary to comply with a current judicial proceeding, a court order or legal process served on its websites. Owing to Fraser policy of continuous development, the right is reserved to change specifications, prices or any other details at any time.

BUSINESS TRANSITIONS

In the event that Fraser goes through a business transition, such as a merger, an acquisition by another company or selling a portion of its assets, users' personal information will, in most instances, be part of the assets transferred. If, as a result of a business transition, a user's personally identifiable information is used in a manner different from that stated at the time of collection, the user is advised to review these terms and to unsubscribe (see below) if the terms have changed unsatisfactorily.

CHANGES TO THIS STATEMENT

Fraser will occasionally update these 'Terms of Use'. Fraser encourages users to review these terms periodically to be informed of how Fraser is protecting users' information. Fraser reserves the right to change or amend these website terms and conditions without prior notice.

LINKS

This website contains links to other websites. Please be aware that Fraser is not responsible for the privacy practices of such other websites. This privacy statement applies solely to information collected by the website under the FraserYachts.com domain.

ACCESS AND CONTACT INFORMATION

We are committed to protecting your personal data and to fulfilling our obligations under the data protection regulations we are subject to, including Regulation 2016/679 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 27 April 2016.

You have a right of access to your personal data collected by our website. You have the right at any time to ask us for a copy of the information supplied by you that we hold. You also have the right to ask us to stop using your information, delete it or ask us to modify it at any time. If you would like to make one of the above mentioned requests, please contact marketing@fraseryachts.com. If you have any other questions on our privacy policy, please contact marketing@fraseryachts.com.
